Mr. Sloan Cheerful. No Bootleg in This. Rays That Pierce Steel. He Talked Too Much.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors, refuses to join the [illegible]d, panic-stricken. He says the automobile industry has [illegible] bottom of the cycle of depression, and has begun a slow [illegible] return to normal [illegible] This is apparent, not only in the automobile business, but in other lines of industry."

"USUALLY WHEN you read that a man has killed his family and himself you find a paragraph about the bottle of bootleg whisky. In a story from York, Pa., bootleg has no part. Harry Dietz, a farmer, hanged himself after killing his wife and four children.

In place of the usual whisky bottle there was a note saying the family must die together, as he could not leave them alone.

The farmer's note for $3,800 was come due at a local bank next Saturday, with no money to pay it.

THOSE STILL YOUNG remember the first announcement of the X-ray. Pictures in Sunday newspapers dimly outlined skeletons of rats or cats revealed by X-ray penetration.

Next came X-ray pictures of broken bones. Now the X-ray is as much a part of industry as it is of surgery and medicine.

According to the latest amazing announcements, the "Gamma ray" enables scientists to look through solid steel beams of skyscrapers and armor of battleships.

Tiny weak spots can be detected, and defect inside of the metal is actually "seen." This reminds you that men can do whatever they can imagine.

DAVID WEINBERG, 44 a tailor, has learned that saying what you think is sometimes dangerous. He was interested in communism and discussed it with his neighbors in Minneapolis, the police say. And he had views on the subject.

Men kidnaped him from his home took him in an automobile stripped him naked, beat him, tarred and feathered, handcuffed him, wrapped him up in a white hooded cloak, then threw him out of the automobile in his own neighborhood.

GREAT successful nations are on a gold basis. If at any time there should not be enough gold, an inadequate "basis" for doing business would cause trouble.

The league of nations gold delegation reports to the league financial committee that by 1933 the world's gold supply will be inadequate to carry on business unless something can be done to distribute the gold more evenly.

That means distributing two billions in gold that France has accumulated and the larger gold hoard in the United States.

George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City Bank, one of the league's gold delegation, says something can be arranged to take care of gold for the next 10 years.

SENSATIONAL SPEECH GIVES FASCIST AIMS

German Leader, Appearing as Court Witness, Forecasts Revolution.

ASSAILS TREATY TERMS

Germany Gagged by Terms of Former Foes, Hitler Asserts.

By The Associated Press

LEIPSIG, Germany, Sept. 25 — Adolph Hitler, Fascist generalissimo, today declared that just as soon as the German Fascists by legal means have captured political power in Germany, they will tear asunder the treaty of Versailles if necessary by means looked upon by the world as illegal.

His sensational announcement of purpose was made at the trial of three Reichswehr officers to which he had been summoned as a witness.

"The national Socialists do not regard the international agreements as law but as something forced upon us," he said. "Germany is gagged by the peace treaties. We do not acknowledge our guilt in the war, especially not the guilt of future generations. When we shall oppose these treaties by every possible means, we shall find ourselves in the midst of revolution.

Plan of Opposition

"We shall oppose these treaties both diplomatically and by completely evading them. That may be looked upon by the world as an illegal method, but we will not employ it until the party has been victorious. After two or three more elections our party will be in the majority.

"The National Socialist movement will pursue its aims within the state with means prescribed by the constitution. The constitution, however, prescribed only the method and not the final end. We will make our party the decisive factor by means of the law making bodies but at the moment that our party has the power we will mould the state in the form that we consider proper."

SEES EVENTUAL VICTORY

Faces Court Unflinching in Forecast of Germany's Future.

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 25— Adolf Hitler, bold man of German politics and head of the Fascists, unflinchingly mounted the witness stand of the supreme court of the land today and proclaimed without hesitation that Fascism through peaceful means, eventually was fated to conquer the nation.

Speaks Without Hesitation

Granted an opportunity to explain his cause by the German system of court procedure with the question presented to him as to whether or not his party aimed at any illegal movements in order to gain political power, Hitler was quick to make full use of the moment.

"As a war veteran I know only too well that I cannot fight the army and police with illegal means," Hitler declared. "Our so-called storm troop detachments are merely for protection against political terrorists. But a sound idea will conquer the state through itself."

Even the usual staid solemnity of the court chamber was not immune to the force of Hitler's oratory. Cries of "Bravo!" from followers in the audience which packed the chamber punctuated his vigorous speech. With utmost confidence in the success of his aims, he outlined his party's proposed course of action.

"If our movement is victorious," he said, "a special court will assemble to avenge the crime of the revolution of 1918.

"Then heads will begin to topple off."

PARTY SPLIT LOOMS IN N. Y.

Division Over Prohibition Is Seen as G. O. P. Convention Opens.

DRYS SHOWING FIGHT

Propose Naming Rival Nominee as Defeat of Enforcement Proposal Impends.

By United Press

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 25—The Republican party in New York stood on the brink today of divorcing itself from prohibition.

Conferences among state leaders, prior to the opening of the state convention today failed to bring about a settlement of the wet-dry controversy, which threatens to split the party and recreate the Prohibition party under a different title. Drys, in the face of certain defeat of their demands for a platform placing the party on record for enforcement of the prohibition law, prepared to go into the general election with a candidate of their own.

Repeal Plank Probable

It was predicted by upstate leaders of urban counties would accept membership on the resolutions committee, which is to be named today, to direct personally the drafting of a plank which would call for repeal of the 18th amendment.

Secretary of State Stimson, temporary chairman of the convention, was scheduled to sound a keynote of national significance.

The tentative slate, while it took a position of secondary importance to the prohibition split, stood as follows:

For governor, Charles H. Tuttle of New York; for lieutenant governor, Benjamin Namm of Kings county; for comptroller, Daniel H. Conway of Oswego; for attorney general, Hamilton (incumbent) or Charles G. Blakeslee of Binghamton.

The wet strength grew hourly in yesterday's conferences.

Wet Strength Assured

The arrival of Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman of New York City, Samuel S. Koenig of New York, and Meier Steinbrink of Brooklyn, a Hoover supporter, who declared that 120 or 129 delegates in his group were wet, clinched the situation for the repealists.

Dry leaders announced, however, that a third party was inevitable in consequence of the determination of party leaders to name Tuttle and insert a wet plank in the platform, abandoning a position the Republicans have adhered to in New York state for many years.

CLARA LAYS BLAME ON 50-CENT CHIPS

Worth $100 in "Little Game," Film Redhead Says, Explaining Check Trouble.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 25—Clara Bow, filmdom's redhead, has broken a two-days' silence to answer assertions that she stopped payment on checks for $13,900 after offering them in payment of gambling losses at a Reno, Nev., hotel.

The actress' statement read in part:

"While I was at Lake Tahoe, Mr. Will Rogers invited Rex Bell, my secretary Miss Devoe and myself to dinner. I did not know the hotel was a gambling place until after we reached there. After we had dinner Mr. Rogers went to one of the gambling tables and naturally we went with him. I began to play a little at a game called 'twenty-one which they call there 'black jack.'

"They gave me 50-cent pieces to play with and I signed some checks in blank, telling the dealer to fill in the amount of the 50-cent pieces he had given me. There were four checks.

"It now seems they claim these 50 cent pieces represented what they call $100 chips and they put enough in the checks to amount to that.

"When the checks reached my bank they called me and said the checks had a slip on them asking the bank to 'wire fate of these checks.'

Clara Bow.

"This attracted the attention of my banker and I found out for the first time this gambling house claimed I had lost and owed them nearly $14,000, so I told the bank not to pay the checks.

"If these people think they have an honest claim against me, I will gladly receive any legal document they serve on me, or they can

GRAFT TRIAL NEARING END

Jury Hears Canton Bootleggers Tell of Purchasing "Protection."

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 25—Four more witnesses were marshalled by the government today in the trial of Ellis Darany, former Canton police sergeant, and two others alleged to have been involved in a Canton rum protection ring.

The prosecution was expected to close its case with the testimony of the remaining quartet of witnesses and the jury of eight men and four women probably will begin its deliberations not later than tomorrow.

Reputed Canton bootleggers testified yesterday of paying as high as $100 a week for "protection" and declared most of this went into the hands of Darany, who formerly headed the vice squad.

In addition, two Canton attorneys testified that Darany, Mike Smith, one of his co-defendants, and John Couris, also under indictment, paid a fine of $1,000 and costs assessed against Paul Brown, alleged bootlegger.

Peter Magras, who admitted he operated two places, said he paid $100 a week to Darany—$85 for gambling and $15 for liquor protection—over a period of seven months. He paid the money directly to the former sergeant, Magras said.

When he missed payments for two weeks, police raided one place and found some liquor, the witness asserted, but added that he "paid them off and they didn't arrest me."

After seven months, Magras abandoned his gambling house and the payments dropped to $65, he said.

Brown, another government witness, told of paying Darany for protection at the rate of $40 a week and later increasing the amount to $75.

SHARKEY AND PHOTO MEN STAGE CLASH

Jack Objects To Having Picture Taken Weighing in For Tonight's Fight.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—An impromptu battle between Jack Sharkey and a group of newspaper photographers enlivened the weighing in ceremonies this afternoon at Yankee stadium for tonight's scheduled 15-round heavyweight bout between Sharkey and Victorio Campolo of Argentina.

After Sharkey and Campolo had weighed in a photographer asked the Bostonian to pose with the South American for a picture and Jack refused.

Angry words ensued and Sharkey rushed at the photographer and had to be pulled off by his handlers. The photographers were indignant over Sharkey's action and agreed among themselves never to take another picture of him.

Sharkey scaled 200, the heaviest he had ever weighed for any bout. He appeared fat about the waist.

Campolo weighed 222½ and the physician's examination showed him to be in perfect physical trim.

THIRD VERDICT OF DEATH ENDS MURDER TRIAL

Sites' Testimony Fails To Sway Opinion of Crawford County Jury.

M'CARTNEY ALSO CALLED

80 Minutes Taken To Decide Fate; To Argue Motions Saturday.

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS, O., Sept. 25—The state today had avenged the slaying of Ralph Wilcox in an attempted filling station holdup and three men are facing death in the electric chair after being found guilty of first degree murder in connection with the crime.

The case drew to a close here yesterday when a jury deliberated an hour and 20 minutes to find Earl Sites guilty without recommendation of mercy.

Crawford county's little courthouse has passed through three sensational weeks never before recorded in its history. In less than a month three men were sentenced to death—the first men to be sentenced to death since the county was founded.

To Hear Motions

Only legal battles through higher courts remain between the three men and the electric chair. Fred Massa, who by his won confession was the trigger man in the fatal shooting, is planning to carry his case to the court of appeals in an effort to escape death Jan. 2.

A motion for a new trial for Kenneth McCartney has been filed with Common Pleas Judge J. Walter Wright. Sites' attorney will file a similar motion with the court sometime today. Hearings will be held on both motions Saturday. Formal sentencing of the two men to death will follow the hearings if Judge Wright overrules the motions.

Sites was the only one of the trio to put up a hard court battle. His counsel pulled one of the surprises of the trials by placing the defendant on the witness stand just before resting his case yesterday at 2:30 p. m. McCartney also testified for Sites.

Little Difference in Trials

Outside the fact that Sites and McCartney both gave testimony at the final trial the hearings were similar throughout. Massa and McCartney did not introduce defense witnesses; relying entirely upon the pleas of their counsel for mercy. The same witnesses were introduced by the state in the three trials.

Sites was easily confused on the stand. Under cross examination, he hid behind answers of "I don't know" and "I don't remember."

SOVIET LEADER DENIES CHARGE

Asserts Russian Government Not "Dumping" Wheat on Markets.

REPORTS BUMPER CROP

Largest Grain Production in Country's Annals Said To Require Export.

By International News Service

MOSCOW, Sept. 25—Official denial that the Soviet government is "dumping" wheat and other grains on the markets of the world was made by a high Soviet official to International News Service here today.

The present glut of Russian grain upon the world's markets was said to be due to the harvesting of a bumper crop of grain, the largest in the history of the Soviet.

The bumper crop of wheat, barley and rye was harvested despite the fact government grain collections are slow due to the bulky unwieldy machinery of collection. In addition, peasant employes of collective farms are known to be "stalling," doing their best to halt speedy production of a commodity the bulk of which goes to the government and only a comparatively small amount to themselves.

In spite of all this, however, the government has been enabled to allocate for export a total of 4,000,000 and possibly 5,000,000 tons of wheat, barley and rye.

Unable to export this huge expected total immediately, Soviet operations probably sold short on the Chicago exchange in an attempt to even up for losses sustained in European markets, where grain was sold for lower prices.

In connection with the denial of "dumping," it is difficult to compute the actual cost of production in this country, since the collective farms, which run out the bulk of the grain used domestically and for export, are bound up with the entire system of national economy.

"Nothing" Sold

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 25—Russia sold some wheat over here, but they didn't have any wheat over, so now our Farm Board is all excited.

Looks to me like the fellow that should be hot and bothered is the fellows that bought it.

We never will have any prosperity that is free from speculation till we pass a law that every time a broker or person sells something, he has got to have it sitting there in a bucket, or a bag, or a jug, or a cage, or a rat trap, or something, depending on what it is he is selling.

We are continually buying something that we never get, from a man that never had it.

RAILWAY NOW IN HANDS OF RECEIVER HERE

Electric Line Property From Marion to Bucyrus Appraised at $96,122.

RECEIVER OPERATES ROAD

Judge George B. Scofield Rules on Priority Lien of Cleveland Firm.

All real and personal property of the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway Co. today was ordered by common pleas court to be sold at public sale on Monday, Nov. 3, at 2 p. m. at the court house.

The electric line has been in the hands of a receiver since May 12 after a petition had been filed in court by William Titus, doing business as the Titus Machine Works, who claimed the company owed him a bill of $109.37 for materials. He urged that a receiver be appointed to protect stockholders and creditors.

Property of the electric railroad has been appraised at $96,122.63 while its bonded indebtedness is more than $400,000, according to reports filed in court by the receiver, George Whysall, who also is president of the company.

The court today adjudged the Guardian Savings & Trust Co. of Cleveland as having the best and first lien on the company's property. The company is trustee for holders of bonds secured by its mortgage and deed of trust and its claim of $49,068 holds priority over the $371,666.67 claim of the Irving Trust Co. of New York, the court ruled. The latter company is trustee for holders of general and refunding bonds.

Advertisements concerning the sale were ordered inserted in newspapers of general circulation in New York City, Cleveland, Bucyrus and Marion. The court also ordered the receiver to continue operation of the line until the property is sold.

CUB PILOT RESIGNS, EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

McCarthy Incensed at Hornsby Appointment as Bruin Manager.

By International News Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—Joe McCarthy resigned today as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Rogers Hornsby, popular second baseman for the Bruins, immediately took McCarthy's place.

Incensed over the appointment of Hornsby as 1931 manager of the club, McCarthy went to the office of president William Veeck and tendered his resignation as manager, effective immediately.

The bad blood, between McCarthy and Hornsby, which has been kept under cover during the exciting race for the pennant was apparent in McCarthy's attitude as he went to the conference with Veeck.

McCarthy declared to friends that he would not under any circumstances appear on the field for the game with the Reds today unless Hornsby was kept out of uniform. He also intimated that if he did meet Hornsby that he would show Rogers what a "fighting manager" can do with his fists.

48 RUSSIANS ARE EXECUTED

Society Members Accused of Famine Plot Pay Death Penalty.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Sept. 25—Forty-eight Russians who dared to oppose the Moscow Soviet regime have paid their lives for their opposition.

An official communique through Tass, Soviet news agency, said that all members—numbering 48—of the counter-revolutionary society revealed Sept. 22, had been shot by the secret police after trial and conviction on charges of attempting to starve the population of the republic, by destroying the food reserves of the country.

Among the doomed men were Professor Alexander Ryazanyzev and Eugene Kantyguin, government officials. All were described as "unreconcilable enemies of the Soviet government and active counter revolutionists."

Secret ploice revealed discovery of the alleged counter revolutionary society last Monday in a brief notice which said the men had been arrested. Their activities, it was charged, embraced the organizations of the meat, fish, vegetable and other industries as well as the commissariat of trade and state planning institutions.

A police body instead of the supreme court is understood to have tried the men.

MASS OF MERGER EVIDENCE COMPLETED

Youngstown Steel Trial Adjourned Until Oct. 20, Date For Arguments.

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 25—The huge mass of evidence from which Common Pleas Judge David Jenkins will determine whether the billion-dollar Bethlehem Steel Corporation-Youngstown Sheet & Tube company merger was fairly and legally brought about was complete today.

Three months from the day the hearing opened on the injunction suit instituted by associates of Cyrus E. Eaton, leading foe of the consolidation, the taking of testimony was ended late yesterday.

Court will be in adjournment until Oct. 20, when the attorneys will give their final arguments. This may require another week and it is expected it will take Judge Jenkins until the latter part of November to reach his decision.

Judge Jenkins long has been familiar with the Mahoning valley's steel industry, but the size of his task is indicated in the 8,000 pages of the transcript of the testimony and the 918 exhibits introduced.

During the three months, 55 witnesses were heard on the issues of whether the terms of four shares of Bethlehem for three of Sheet & Tube were fair to the Youngstown stockholders, whether there was fraud in the negotiations and whether all of the proxies were legally voted when stockholders approved the deal April 8.

Distinguished Committee of 1 Launches New Soap Discover

Mrs. James J. Davis, Mrs. Cecil B. de Mille, Ethel Barrymore Anne Morgan, in group to judge new soap for fine fabrics

Distinguished member of the Committee of 17—Ethel Barrymore, America's most noted actress.

A TINY bead of soap, no larger than a pinhead, yet it holds the secret of 20% longer wear for silk stockings! Science proved this recently to the entire satisfaction of the Committee of 17, a group of distinguished women who met at the Ritz Hotel to give "the woman's viewpoint" on this revolutionary new soap that promises to upset utterly all previous conceptions of how silks and fine fabrics should be washed.

Watch soap test at Ritz

Social leaders, home economics consultants, the wife of a distinguished cabinet member, eminent university authorities... women representative of every type of American femininity ... members of the Committee of 17 watched authorities test soaps ordinarily used by women for washing silks. They heard chemists tell how modern washbowl laundering of silks demanded an entirely different kind of soap from any of those formerly employed, one that would dissolve instantly ... work in water as cool as 85 degrees F. and rinse, away completely. Could soap really be improved? Could the ideal soap for silks be made?

Science says "yes," and before the skeptical eyes of 17 women tested a revolutionary new soap that performed miracles never witnessed before. It dissolved like a flash, cleansed in water 20 degrees cooler than required by any existing soap, and rinsed away like magic.

Distinguished Committee approves new soap discovery

So perfectly did the new soap meet every requirement that the Committee of 17 went on record as "unanimously approving the new soap as perfect for the washing of silks, woolens and all fine fabrics."

"The name of the new soap, 'Palmolive Beads,' reveals the secret of why it gives such vastly better results," said the chemists who made this important discovery.

Palmolive Beads are the first soap for fine silks ever made in the form of tiny, hollow, instant dissolving "beads." The only fine fabric soap ever made of olive and palm oils ... oils hitherto reserved exclusively for complexion soaps.

Palmolive Beads are for sale everywhere at 10c the box—no more than you pay for ordinary flakes and chips. Get a box today.

ESTIMATE 100 A DAY AS 1930 AUTO TOLL

Figures for Nation Show an Accident Fatality Occurs Every 14 Minutes.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON—Deaths directly caused by automobile accidents in the United States during 1930 will reach an aproximate total of 36,000 persons, or about 100 per day, according to estimates of the American Motorists association.

This figure is based on a survey of the first six months of this year and show an increase of 9 per cent in automobile fatalities over the corresponding period of 1929.

"At the same rate of increase, for the entire year of 1930, it will mean that a total of 36,035 persons will meet their death as the result of automobile accidents, representing an increase of 2,975 over the 1929 traffic toll which was 33,060," Thomas J. Keefe, general manager of the association said

This year's motoring death figure will be a victim every 14.5 minutes, while last year the rate was one each 16 minutes, Keefe asserted.

"The aggregate, for the year, however, will undoubtedly be even greater than the estimate shown, for the reason that an analysis of the automobile deaths for the past years show that the number of fatalities the last six months of any given year are more than for the first six months. October, November and December, almost without exception shows an increase over the remaining nine months of each year in the numbers killed by motor vehicles.

"The greatest number of accidents, according to reports made to the department of commerce, occur between 5 and 6 p. m., during motor vehicle traffic movement homeward. The next most dangerous period of the day is between 7 and 8 p. m.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fairly progressive year, with all that relates to writings or publishings or in the nature of a speculative enterprise bringing some agreeable returns. However, there may be small worries and disappointments, as well as an unwelcome change or journey.

"QUALITY IS EVERYTHING"

Says

JOHN HERTZ

Chairman of the Board
Omnibus Corp. of America

Owners of all the busses in New York and Chicago; Founder of the Yellow Cab Co. Director Forman-State National Bank, Chicago

"A champion race horse or a leader in industry, I have found, is seldom a result of chance. Concentration upon quality—that's what counts. When I read the personal reports of your distinguished visitors, revealing your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I knew that you were on the right track. Quality is everything—and the American people demand and appreciate the best."

John Hertz

LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited Mr. John Hertz to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The statement of Mr. Hertz appears on this page.

For a Thirteen-Month Calendar.

From Washington comes the announcement that renewed effort will be made at the coming session of congress in December to secure congressional action looking to the promotion of an international conference to consider worldwide adoption of a thirteen-month calendar. There is already a joint resolution pending before the house foreign affairs committee which was introduced last April by Representative Stephen G. Porter, of Pennsylvania, its chairman, requesting President Hoover either to call such a conference or to accept an invitation to participate in such a conference should it be called by some other government.

Although the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, it is to be represented at the general conference on communications and transit, which is to be held under the auspices of the league, before which calendar reform is to come up for consideration.

National committees organized for calendar revision are at work in many lands including our own, the American committee, of which George Eastman, of camera fame, is the chairman, being made up of men prominent in industry, labor, business, science and politics, and already over 100 of the largest industrial and business concerns of the country are behind the movement.

The basic plan which has attained the greatest fame is for thirteen months of twenty-eight days each. This would do away with the present inequality in the lengths of months, and as each month would have four weeks, the months would be quartered and all days of the week would have corresponding positions in all months.

The difficulty in reaching agreement on any plan providing for thirteen months of twenty-eight days each is, obviously, making provision for the extra day. The problem would be easy were there but 364 days in the year, but there are practically 365. Under our present calendar provision is made for the extra time of our revolution around the sun over 365 days by adding an extra day to February on leap years, but to get rid of an extra day each year in addition to the six hours, nine minutes and nine seconds for which we already have to make provision is the big problem. The solutions which have been suggested are many, but none of them has met with general favor.

However, having reached agreement by which to make provision for an excess of six hours, nine minutes and nine seconds, no doubt some workable plan will be achieved by which to make provision for twenty-four hours more.

The New Gas Rate Proposal.

There is an apparent possibility that the Ohio Fuel Gas company and the city may be able to get together on a local rate schedule, and thus bring to an end a controversy which had its inception five or six years ago and has waged ever since.

The company at last has made a proposal which not only is more advantageous to the city than any previously submitted, but also marks a change of attitude on the part of the company with regard to the proposed linking of its pipe system in the city with its trunk line near Green Camp, which is generally held to be necessary to give the community an adequate supply of gas. It has been the past attitude of the gas people with regard to the laying of this connection which unquestionably has caused a considerable element of the community to look with disfavor upon any proposition heretofore made by them.

The present proposal, as read at the meeting of council Monday night, which is to come up for discussion at tomorrow night's meeting, provides for a rate of a dollar for the first 500 cubic feet of gas, and sixty cents a thousand for all in excess of 500 feet for the first six years of a seven-year contract, and $1.50 for the first 500 feet and sixty cents a thousand for all over 500 feet for the seventh year. If the proposal is accepted by council and is at once legalized by ordinance, it is to become effective when an eight-inch line connecting the company's local pipe system with the trunk line near Green Camp is completed and put into operation.

This newspaper is frank to say that it is not in sympathy with the $1.50 charge for the first 500 feet for the seventh year, realizing that the evident plan of the gas people is to utilize it as a foundation for a like, or possibly larger, charge for the first 500 feet when seeking a contract at the end of the seven-year period. Such charges naturally fall more heavily on the small consumer than on one using many thousands of feet over which he can spread the excess of the $1.50 charge over the sixty-cent rate.

As a whole, however, the proposal is one which should command the deep consideration of council, for it may be said that a dollar charge for the first 500 feet and a basic sixty-cent rate is fair and reasonable, and the extension of the line will afford relief alike from the danger of a failure of an adequate supply and the ever-present fear of such a failure.

And there is another phase of the matter worthy of consideration. Beyond question, the long-extended controversy has led to a division of sentiment on the part of the citizenship, which is not conducive to the best interests of the city, and there is a feeling that the situation has been and is now being utilized as a sort of political football. The sooner this division of sentiment is eliminated and this feeling is dissipated, the better it will be for all concerned.

For all these reasons, it is to be hoped that, working on the basis of the present proposal, council and the gas people may be able to reach a local rate settlement which will prove satisfactory to the people of Marion as a whole, and be fair and just to the gas company, and in no way jeopardize the rights of local patrons to such rebates as held are due them under the old contract.

The first week after his return to the air mail service, Dean Smith, of Byrd expedition fame, lowered the record of three hours for the 412 miles from Cleveland to the Newark Metropolitan airport by nine minutes. Looks like a boost for the Antarctic for aviation training purposes.

The last party making up the 3,654 Gold Star mothers who visited the graves of their soldier dead in France this year as the guests of the United States government is enroute home, thus ending for the present year one of the most commendable acts on the part of the government in all its history; one of which all the people of America may well be proud.

Pittsburgh sharpers touched a Chicago man for $30,000 on the old wire-tapping game a day or two ago. The Main Street easy marks of the vaudeville stage must have moved to the big centers of population.

A Dover newspaper reporter dropped a dollar bill seven times and in five cases it was voluntarily returned to him by persons seeing him drop it. The sixth time a man picked it up and tried to get away, and the seventh time it was picked up by a woman, who endeavored to secrete it in her purse. From all of which it may be adduced that the first five people met in Dover may be deemed honest.

As the result of a forged wire to which the name of a prominent Winnipeg broker was signed, the Chicago grain prices dropped to levels unmatched since 1906. Does this mean that Canada also is to be investigated?

Charles Bowles, elected mayor of Detroit last year, recalled last July by a majority of 31,000 and defeated as a candidate for reelection, has finally surrendered the office and been succeeded by Frank Murphy, a former judge of the recorder's court up there. Bowles was supported as a reform candidate, but his administration of nine months offered little in the way of reforms. In a word, it ran true to precedent in that regard.

Professor George Van Biesbroeck, of Yerkes observatory, has announced that he has "picked up" Tempel's second comet, last seen in the summer of 1926, which is nearing the earth. Isn't this latest heavenly visitor to approach us showing an inclination to become unduly chummy.

To the Democratic charge, that the new tariff has raised the cost of living $1,000,000,000 since its enactment, Representative John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, eastern director of the Republican national congressional committee, replies that instead of raising living costs $1,000,000,000 it has lowered them $2,000,000,000. Few are in position to know the aggregate cost or saving, but certainly any one can determine whether his individual living costs have gone up or down under the new tariff and judge of the worth of the two old party claims accordingly.

HOW FAR WILL IT GO?

Editorial Opinion.

CUBAN UNREST.

Senator David I. Walsh is quoted as saying that "what has happened recently in other South American republics" would seem inevitable in Cuba "unless the influence of our government is exerted immediately to avert trouble." At the same time he is reported as stating that "we can not avoid the responsibility of assuring the Cuban people the right to exercise their basic privilege to declare who shall govern them."

One finds it almost as difficult to square this demand for action by the United States with the implied demand for the abrogation of the Platt amendment, which regularizes American intervention in the domestic affairs of Cuba, as it is to locate Cuba among South American republics. Cuba already is suffering from economic distress. Would its condition be improved by adding a reign of political terror, which more likely than not would immediately follow the removal of Uncle Sam's warning hand? The Cubans already enjoy the right to declare who shall govern them, as long as they do so in accordance with their own constitution.

The Platt amendment, which is part of that constitution, authorizes the United States to intervene to see that Cuban independence is preserved "and to maintain a government capable of protecting life, property and individual liberty." A time of political unrest, like the present, would seem to be just the time when this amendment would exercise its most beneficent influence over the temper of the Cuban people.

Cuba is merely one victim of the existing world-wide economic depression. The United States is having its own hard times. One nation can hardly be expected to play nurse to another when it has its hands full trying to feed its own population. Cuba enjoys a twenty per cent. tariff preference, which the United States does not accord to any other foreign country. The United States takes about eighty per cent. of Cuba's exports. That would seem to be fair enough. The immediate occasion of the Cuban economic debacle is the slump in the price of sugar, which is due to worldwide overproduction and for which the United States is in no way responsible. The kindest thing this country can do for Cuba is to refrain from encouraging its political freebooters to take advantage of economic distress to further their own ambitions.—Detroit Free Press.

HIGHWAY BOORISHNESS.

To list all the ways in which we show our boorishness on the highways would take all day. You can doubtless make up your own list—and if you do it carefully and honestly, the chances are you'll be surprised at your own lack of manners. All of us display a surliness and a selfishness as drivers that we would never dream of displaying in any other field. This is more than just a matter for melancholy regret. Our automobiles are killing more than 30,000 people a year, and a great many of these 30,000 would still be alive, if it were not for this national habit of selfishness on the highway. In any safety campaign, the restoration of simple, old-fashioned courtesy must be the first big step. Until we regain our manners, our death toll will continue to be a national scandal.—LaCross Tribune.

The Summer of 1862 in Columbus.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Though war operations went forward in Columbus throughout the entire Civil war period with almost feverish activity, the season of 1862 might be said to have seen the high-water point. The opinion prevailed that the South had shot its quivver of arrows and was on the down grade to collapse, and the same impression seems to have prevailed in Washington.

On July 1, President Lincoln called for 300,000 additional volunteers, and on August 1 he called for an equal number of volunteers to serve for nine months. That presented some problem for Central Ohio to solve without resorting to the draft method, which was proposed elsewhere and had provoked the same kind of opposition as the conception of the proposition during the World war.

Franklin, with Madison, Licking, Champaign, Logan, Union, Delaware, Morrow, Marion and Knox were made into one of five military districts into which the state was divided, with Camp Chase as their headquarters. The disappointment with the peninsular campaign also presented a feeling that must be dispelled, in the recruiting plans and the manner in which they should be carried out.

On July 15 the first general meeting of the joint recruiting campaigns was held on the west front of the statehouse, Governor Brought making the first speech. Others who took vigorous action in the movement as speakers were J. W. Andrews, Samuel Galloway, Lewis Heyl, Horace C. Wilson, F. C. Sessions and Chauncey N. Olds.

Physical Education.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

We need in our public and private schools the best constructive physical education we can find. This is quite as important as deep learning and mental training. Knowledge is valuable only in proportion to the degree of health and vigor its owner possesses.

Without physical instruction in the schools all sorts of bodily ills threaten our growing boys and girls. They are liable to have round shoulders and hollow chests from long school hours of poor posture at desks. They may develop curvature of the spine because of wrong posture in sitting and standing. Their muscles become flabby and their figures scrawny from shallow breathing. Eye troubles may follow wrong position in reading. Stomach, intestinal and kidney disturbances come from improper physical habits. All these, and more evils appear when there is the lack of physical training.

A normal, active, virile man or woman will do twice as much with a rounded-out education if a perfect body is developed. There can be no doubt about the handicap suffered by the flat-chested and dyspeptic invalid.

The requirements for specially-fitted physical directors in our public and private schools to give the best of instruction is met by the splendid schools for physical training in the country. Such institutions are turning out splendid men and women to direct the physical education of our boys and girls.

Our public school teachers have their hand in the work, too. They give health instruction besides all the other teaching they have to do.

Children are responsive to physical instruction, for to them it is a form of play. It is well for them to give heed to this teaching and follow it through their lives. Physical exercise for a week or a month, or a year is not enough. It must be continued every day, for every year, throughout life, if good health is to be maintained.

Most of our schools are giving physical tests at regular intervals to determine each pupil's progress. These are just as important as are tests of the mental progress.

Examination of and recommendation for treatment of the teeth, the eyes, the hearing and other factors lead to better health. The school child of today is living in a better generation than his parents enjoyed.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Sept. 25—I'll wager two sticks of colored chalk and a spinning top all the way across the board that in these days of unemployment no person has been offered so many jobs they can not fill as this sad-eyed chronicler. Maybe it's kidding, but they are driving me nuts.

There are ten offers for radio broadcasting, two for "personal appearances" in what are known as talkie shorts, a trip to Hollywood to write a full-length movie and even an offer for "a week at the Palace," that paradise of piff-awmers. And each offer is baited with goodly gobs of lovely jack.

Were I to cash in on all I could fulfil that recurrent dream of lazing to the South seas—pausing at Philadelphia for a sneering chuckle at the mint—and lie limp in the eerie glow of crackling koa logs, listen to the throb of gourd drums, the chant of dusky ladies. O, boy!

As it is all I can do is look silly while my wife pops in every once in a while, trying desperately to keep a straight face, looks me over and murmurs: "You an actor?" and rushes out in a wild gale of uproarious laughter. You'd think I haven't all my marbles or something.

I am conscious no histrionic virtues of mine incite such ridiculous offers. They are due entirely to the magic of the printed word. After people see a name in print a few years there is a natural curiosity—an inclination to wonder: "What in the world does that bird look like?"

In other words, a column clown in the flesh has the same sort of appeal as a freak show's three-legged calf. And after folk see him, they merely sigh a sad little sigh and kiss another illusion good-bye. No columnist looks half as bright as his printed piffle. And you may quote me freely on that.

I have had my flings at public speaking—three to be precise. After nights of wakefulness interpolated with a few pajama poses—full face and profile—before the mirror, I imagined myself all set for a forensic furore. Instead, when called upon my knees turned suddenly to loose jelly, my expression became that of a frightened hoot-owl, and my voice trailed off into a despairingly, thin squeak—like a rusted hinge on an old gate.

• • •

Once I was called upon for a few words at a stirring home-coming reception of Jack Dempsey in Los Angeles. Several noted Pacific coast orators glibly rolled out their masterful perorations. When I stood up, the world seemed to stop, turn over and leave everything a smudge. My mouth opened like a ventriloquist's dummy, but there was no sound. I could not utter a word. As I sat down in confusion, a palooka near the speaker's table cried: "That's telling 'em, old whistle ears!"

• • •

And imagine me with my quarter-of-three o'clock walk following such deft delineators of extemperaneous and pin-neat repartee as Phil Baker, Frank Fay and Julius Tannen at the Palace! There I would be all alone on that big stage with not even my wife to chafe my wrists and bring me out of a swoon. The Palace—your Aunt Ida's tippet. I know my eggs.

• • •

Upon another memorable—to me, anyway—occasion, I was called upon suddenly at a theatrical benefit, along with many others, to take a bow. How I managed to walk up the runway to the stage you'll never know. Or likely care. I mumbled something that could not possibly have been heard by the orchestra leader and started across the Sahara desert for the wings. It was the longest distance between two points I have ever known. I seemed to be on one of those running boards used to exercise dogs. I passed through row after row of villages—I distinctly remember Passaic—and was yanked back to reality by a stage hand as I was trying to climb down into one of the stage boxes. I was a week getting hold of myself again and sometimes I think I have never been exactly right since.

Science and Evolution.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Some time ago an interesting novel appeared entitled "Giants in the Earth." It causes us to wonder if, perhaps, there may not some day be giants on the earth. Giants in body, giants in brain. In detail, evolution appears to progress in all directions: forward, backward, sideways. But in the main, the total trend of evolution is forward, from weakness to strength, from the simple to the complex, from the less fit to the more fit.

The way of evolution is toward increasing specialization and cooperation. In man, Conklin says, this has led to increased organic and intellectual capacity, increased control over environment and greater freedom, increased size and complexity of social units.

Progress, however, unless new forces and factors of change are introduced, can not go on indefinitely. Progress is most rapid at first. Then it gradually slows down and stops. The road of ever-increasing progress ends in extinction. As Minot put it, death is the price we pay for our differentiation.

With the rapid evolution of civilization powerful social, educative and moral factors are almost sure to act upon man to cause progress in various directions. Progress must come in new lines, and in response to new and various different environmental conditions. The physical evolution appears to have come almost to a standstill. But new discoveries in science may cause radical changes in the human organism as well as in the forms of lower animals. The intellectual evolution of the race, as well as the physical, has slowed down almost to a standstill. But new lines of social development, population saturation, the growing predominance of the unfit, the menace of birth control to the more intelligent classes of society; such factors may gradually compel a new social orientation, productive of a more ruthless determination to weed out the unfit and provide a wider area for the progress of the fit.

Ales Hrdlicka, for example, predicts that future man will undergo many evolutionary changes. The brain will enlarge, the stature will increase, with a lengthening of the legs and limbs and shortening of the arms. The pulse rate will increase, the body temperature will rise, and there will be a diminution in the size of the appendix and the intestines.

These conclusions were reached after a contemplation of man's infancy and childhood, which Hrdlicka estimates to have covered a span of some 300,000 years. Man can be said to have had, as yet, only a brief span of maturity, beginning from the glacial period. Man is slowly changing, however imperceptibly. How slow these changes are. He is still in a state of plasticity; is constantly conquering his environment. He is only very slowly learning to control it and himself, individually, in the interest of the race.

Recent experiments have shown that hundreds of mutations have been found or produced in drosophila, or fruit fly. If all the mutations are capable of arising with a single insect, there is reason to believe that innumerable changes may be produced in the human species. These changes will probably arise out of the fields of genetics and endocrinology. Experiment alone will determine whether such potential mutations in the human species will prove beneficial.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

The City of Manila.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

Manila is situated on the Pasig river which flows into Manila bay, the scene of Dewey's triumph. In this city three distinct stages of civilization are represented, the Malay, with his thatched houses; the Spanish, left over from the Spanish occupancy and mostly centered within the "Walled City," and the American type, which is plainly hall-marked by the wide streets and modern buildings.

All the modern conveniences and improvements are to be found in Manila today but it has not been ever thus. As late as 1904 Manila had no drainage system and so yellow fever and cholera ran rampant. Now a pure water supply furnishes the inhabitants with an ample supply of about 25,000,000 gallons a day and sewers carry off the waste. There are more than 150 miles of macadamized, clean streets. Sixty-one open squares and parks furnish breathing places for the populace. The Luneta and the Heran Botanical gardens are much sought as parade grounds for the belles and beaux, American and haute monde Filipino.

A modern fire department does its work capably and an adequate police force keeps order. The Manila hotel, operated by the American government near the Luneta, has 150 rooms and 120 baths, a roof garden, grill room and a ballroom where music is furnished by native Filipino orchestra.

The standard of money is the peso, the equivalent of fifty cents, American. The coinage is in the peso, the half-peso, the peseta, half a peseta, five centavo—two and one-half cents—and the one-centavo—one-half cent.

While in the daytime the temperature runs fairly high the nights always are cool and the climate is uniform the year around. May is the hottest month.

There are several noteworthy sights for which tourists generally make a bee-line upon arrival in Manila. One of these is the "Intramuros," or "Walled City," which dates back to 1590. These walls are two and a half miles in extent and, between twenty and thirty feet high. Five of the old gates remain, but only three of them are well preserved. Fort Santiago is the site of the old native fortress, which the Spaniards found when they took over the islands in 1570. It is now the headquarters of the American army.

The University of Santo Thomas dates back to 1661 when it was established by the Dominican order and still is under their control. A fine museum of natural history supplements the usual university curricula. The University of Manila has 3,500 matriculates and is housed in thirty buildings.

Escolta Street, or as the natives call it "The Escolta" is the shopping territory. Here are to be found many Americans and European stores. On Rosario street are located the Chinese shops of which there are many.

American sports, including baseball, horse racing, polo, tennis, golf are to be found among the amusements. Cock-fighting, a hang-over from other days, still persists in spite of many attempts on the part of the Americans to put a stop to it. The Filipinos are inveterate bettors and frequently large sums of money are wagered on these mains.

The islands have twelve newspapers printed in English and Spanish, twenty-eight in English, twenty-seven in Spanish and thirty-one in native dialects.

Manila is fast becoming modern.

YOUTH ROBS THEATER WITH FAKE WEAPON

Cigaret Case Gun Used in Holdup; $14,000 Payroll Taken.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 25—Two payroll robberies totalling $15,500 and a shooting within less than 24 hours gave police something to solve today.

A youth carrying nothing more than a revolver-shaped cigaret case obtained $1,400 from the Columbia theater, downtown burlesque house last night a few hours after three men escaped with the $14,000 payroll of the Friedman-Blau-Farber company.

Later Ben Kimbrew, 18, was probably fatally wounded by a man who objected because Kimbrew won $20.40 in a policy game, police said.

While a score of persons stood in the Columbia lobby buying tickets, a youth about 17 years old stepped to the rear of the ticket booth, jerked the door open and thrust what Miss Jean McPhee, 23, the cashier thought was a revolver muzzle against her side. He seized a roll of bills to pay employes and the night's receipts, totalling $1,400 and fled down an alley.

Kellogg Named to Post on World Court Bench

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, Sept. 25—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of state, and co-author with Aristide Briand of the pact outlawing war, was elected a justice on the world court bench with the first ballot of the combined council and assembly of the league of nations today.

Fourteen others representing as many countries also were elected to place on the court.

Election of the judges was in accordance with a new statute of the league providing for an increase of the membership from eleven to fifteen. Those elected today will begin nine year terms next January 1.

Supreme Court Rules Against Citizens' Party

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25—The Citizens party of Cincinnati is not a regularly constituted political body and is not entitled to a place on the November election ballots as such, the supreme court held in a decision last night.

The ruling was given in the party's mandamus action to compel Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown to allow it to appear on the ballots as an independent group under a circle for straight voting. Denying the application, the court held the party could enter the election as a group, but could not be listed under the straight vote circle as are regular political organizations.

SOVIET RECOGNITION APPEARS UNLIKELY

Unfavorable Sentiment Believed Increased During Last Year in Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—Ever present as a possible change in American foreign policy, the question of recognition of the Soviet government by the United States appeared today to have been pushed further into the background than at any other time since President Hoover took office.

During the past year, officials here remarked, there have been a steady procession of events which have tended to retard rather than help the cause of supporters of the Soviet in this country.

It was pointed out that the Soviet's reply to Secretary Stimson's plea for adherence of the principles of the Kellogg pact during the Chinese-Soviet difficulties was construed in high administration quarters as a distinct affront to the American government.

During the last 12 months publicity attending an investigation of Soviet propaganda and commercial activities in this country by a house committee of which Representative Fish, Republican, New York, is chairman, is considered by officials to have strengthened non-recognition sentiment.

Russian invasion of the American market with products ranging from matches to manganese has stirred much industrial and labor opposition to the Soviet regime this year.

Funeral services were to be held late today after which the body will be placed in the church crypt, with that of Mrs. Leonard, who died in 1916.

TO RENEW PARLEY

Interruption of Naval Negotiations Thought Only Temporary.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Sept. 25—Interruption of negotiations between the French and Italians in Geneva concerning naval armaments is regarded in French circles as not amounting to a rupture.

Talks between experts it was said in official circles today, would not in any case have resulted in an agreement. The experts were expected merely to find a basis on which the governments could negotiate.

The experts, having failed to find such a basis during their discussions at Geneva, the question will be taken up by the two governments. It was said that there had been little expectation in Paris that much would be done at Geneva. Both in Paris and Rome the situation was regarded as impossible for the moment because France cannot consent to full parity while Premier Mussolini's prestige is so engaged that he cannot abandon his demand for it.

Their hands were taped behind them and tape was stretched across their mouths to prevent them from giving an alarm. They were marched to a rear room, forced to lie on the floor while one of the bandits tied their shoestrings together.

CANNON OBJECTS

Bishop Complains Against Hasty Action Against Him.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, complained today in a radio message of the action of elders of his church filing charges against him while he was in Brazil on church work.

The message was sent to the Associated Press from the American Legion on which he is coming from Brazil.

These charges, while their context has not been made public are understood to involve Bishop Cannon's stock speculation operations and political activities, as well as certain new charges.

After detailing circumstances of his notification, while he was spending a honeymoon in Brazil with his former secretary, that new charges were to be filed against him, Bishop Cannon in his message said: "I shall protest the legality of the hurried and premature action taken before my arrival, making impossible conferences with me, which the disciplinary provision 'to carefully inquire' necessarily includes."

Toss-Toss-Toss All Night Long!

Sleepless Nights a Penalty of Acidity

When you go to bed at night tired and exhausted and still can't sleep and you toss fitfully on your bed all night long, trying first one position and then another it's almost a sure sign that you are "acid." Excess acid, formed in the stomach as a result of our unnatural living habits, causes acid-indigestion with sourness, burning and gassy fullness. It also plays havoc with our nerves, making us jumpy, fidgety and so restless at night that we can't sleep, even though we be dog-tired.

Magnesia Oxoids, developed in Germany by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, correct acidity in the right way! Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxoids generate nascent, or active, oxygen. The "live" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal and stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls which aids the natural movements of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

Make this Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Bradley's Drug Store or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If, after taking the contents of one bottle, you don't get more than amazing results, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund the purchase price promptly.—Adv.

PLAN COUNTY CAGE SEASON

Girls' Tournament Will Be Abolished; Two More Teams To Play.

Special To The Star

MT. GILEAD, Sept. 25—The school superintendents and coaches of Morrow county centralized schools met at the office of County Superintendent H. O. Hanna Wednesday to outline athletic policies for the year.

The most important action taken was the decision to eliminate the girls' tournament this year. The girls will play as in the past during the regular season but only the boys will participate in the tournament next spring.

In addition to the eight schools represented in the Morrow county tournament last spring, Mt. Gilead, Cardington, Edison, Iberia, Chesterville, Bloominggrove, Johnsville and Sparta, there will be two other schools entering teams this year One is Marengo whose new school is now in operation. A number of athletes who played on Centerburg, Cardington, Ashley and Sunbury teams last year and who are now attending the Marengo school will form the nucleus for strong basketball teams there.

The other school is Fulton reentering basketball competition after an absence of several years. No gym is available there but the school authorities have rented the Odd Fellows hall for use during the basket ball season.

Officials of the various schools are now arranging the county basketball schedule and will complete all schedules in a week or two.

The superintendents voted to continue the county schoolmasters meetings held last year at the county superintendent's office the second Wednesday of each month.

D. C. RYBOLT TALKS AT KIWANIS MEET

State Purchasing Agent Addresses Marion Luncheon Club at Noon.

Meaning of the title of state purchasing agent was explained to Marion Kiwanians today by D. C. Rybolt, purchasing agent for Ohio, in a talk here at the Marion club.

Claiming that persons are not sufficiently well acquainted with the functions of governmental departments, Mr. Rybolt explained to Kiwanians his duties, which include the purchasing of all foods and supplies for Ohio institutions.

Approximately 35,000 persons are housed in Ohio institutions of various kinds, he said. This entails the annual purchase of 320,000 tons of coal, 198,000 pounds of coffee, 245,875 pounds of prunes and more than 4,000,000 pounds of meat, as well as dozens of other items needed in these institutions.

Everything is bought at public bid and of the lowest and best bidder providing the quality is good, he said.

He went into detail about conditions in Ohio institutions, declaring taxpayers, if they could be acquainted with conditions, would be willing to do everything possible to improve the surroundings of institution inmates.

Mr. Rybolt is a former Akron mayor.

Telephone Spoils Man's System of Safeguarding Sister's Welfare

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—Justine Kiophowski, with a background of 51 years' experience, offers advice to modern parents on how to keep the young upstarts at home nights.

With Justine's sister, Josephine, however, his homely stratagem did not work.

Josephine is 30 Justine thought she ought not to go out alone, night or day. So he devised methods to enforce his fraternal injunctions.

He hung crepe on the door and locked it. He poured acid on the front porch and told Josephine it would burn the soles of her shoes. He nailed a shoe to the porch in such position that it would appear from within the house that a man was on guard without.

But Josephine used the telephone, received police callers, and Justine is no longer his sister's keeper.

Roosevelt Resignation Averts House Quarrel

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 —A squall brewing in congress over Philippine affairs ever since the appointment of Nicholas Roosevelt of New York to be vice governor of the islands appeared dissipated today through the acceptance of his resignation by President Hoover.

Roosevelt, an editorial writer and author of books dealing with Philippine affairs, found his appointment blocked when it was presented to the senate in the closing days of the last session. Extended hearings and a vigorous fight was promised by supporters of Philippine independence if his name came up again this fall. They professed to see in his writings antagonism to their cause. Public burning of his works at gatherings of Filipinos in the islands and other demonstrations occurred.

"My Appetite was poor I had lost weight—felt run-down, Now feel fine."

Miss Lottie Bell Pulliam, Knoxville, Tenn., writes:

"My appetite was poor. I had lost weight—was nervous and could not sleep well at night. In my rundown condition even my joints ached. I took seven large size bottles of S.S.S. It greatly improved my condition. My appetite picked up. My weight was restored and I now feel fine—in fact, I feel like a new person. S.S.S. is a splendid blood tonic and I recommend it to my friends. My mother also took S.S.S. and it renewed her strength."

S.S.S. is the Tonic that is daily helping thousands of weak, rundown, nervous people regain their strength and charm

Browns, Blues For Men's Wear

MARION clothing stores soon will be filled with what the well-dressed man will wear this winter. Practically all Marion clothiers are now unpacking winter stocks in preparation for an early start on the cold weather season.

No radical changes in men's costumes have been made by fashion dictators this year. Suits will fit snugly and hats will be in small shapes. Trouser legs will be a shade narrower.

Brown will lead all other colors so far as suits are concerned, with a new dark blue a close second. The most popular style of coats will be a two-button model with notched or peak lapels.

Tweeds and mixtures of tan and grey will predominate in topcoat colors.

Light gray and brown hats of smaller shape will be the winter favorites this year.

A dash of color will be added to the costume by the colored shirt with detachable collars to match. Neckwear also promises to be colorful, as clothiers predict a popular return of striped cravats.

Hemorrhoid Sufferers
Stop Pile Misery Without Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets as sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that Henney & Cooper always sell them with guarantee of money back if they do not end all Pile suffering.—Adv.

Mrs. Carl Midlam and Mrs. William Midlam were hostesses to the Claridon Township Farm Women's club yesterday afternoon at the home of the former on the Columbus-Sandusky pike east of the city. The meeting opened with a song, "Long, Long Ago." Roll call responses were quotations from the sayings of great men. Mrs. William Midlam conducted the devotional service. The program hour opened with a song, "Singing in the Rain" and three-minute talks on "Leading Americans," were given by Mrs. Walter Seckel, Mrs. Elmer Bader, Mrs. John Frayer, Mrs. Leslie Adams, Mrs. William Midlam and Mrs. Cloyce Stout. An interesting talk on her vacation trip to Minnesota was given by Mrs. Hayes Holland. She also showed the club members a number of Indian relics she had collected on her trip. In an old-fashioned spelling match Mrs. Ellis Epley was awarded the honors. Refreshments were served during the social hour and guests included Mrs. Paul Midlam and Mrs. Lowell Midlam. The club will meet Oct. 22 with Mrs. Milo Brockelsby east of the city.

"Nothin' to get alarmed about, Mrs. Lawrence," he announced. "I'm here for you good—Ferguson, from Oaklands," the last was said almost under his breath for her ear alone. "Where can we talk by ourselves?"

The inner room with its one window, was cluttered up by a day bed, several wicker chairs and a center table. As Ferguson stopped by one of the chairs his eyes fell on a mirror on the wall opposite the door through which he had entered. In it he caught Mrs. Lawrence's reflection, saw her look cautiously about, then, handling a hypodermic syringe with practiced hand, she threw back the loose sleeve of her tea gown, and thrust the needle into her left arm.

"Why do you wish to see me?" asked Mrs. Lawrence curiously.

"You've misunderstood some of us at Oaklands," explained Ferguson, "We'd like to be your friends, for a consideration."

"What about?"

"A piece of information.' He leaned across the table. "What's your hold on Elsa Chase?"

"What's that to you?"

"Nothing—to me. But there's them that'll pay high."

"So youre a fixer." She regarded him steadily. "For whom?"

"That's not material; money talks, you know, and names don't matter."

"They do with me."

From his pocket Ferguson drew out a roll of bills, gold certificates, and fingered them lovingly.

"Who sent you here?" Mrs. Lawrence demanded, but with less insistence. "Those that hate Elsa or those that love her?"

Ferguson counted the money.

"Nine hundred, one thousand," he ended. "A tidy sum for just a night's work."

She shook her head "Not enough."

Ferguson promptly pocketed the money. "There's the bulls," he suggested softly.

"For whom, Elsa?" she questioned mockingly. "Elsa will never go to the police of her own sweet will; she dassent." Again she laughed. "And Mr Winslow can't—without me."

"So Mr. Winslow can't go to the bulls without you," Ferguson repeated. "Well, spill your information; perhaps Mr. Winslow will go higher than a grand."

"Maybe he will," with a faint shrug. "But young Jack is a free spender. He'll come across handsome."

Her companion grinned appreciatively. "Young Jack won't be free long to spend anything," he pointed out with evident enjoyment. "Not when he's copped by the bulls for bumping off Doc. Kane."

Mrs Lawrence stared at the gardener as if she had not heard aright.

"What's that?" she gasped. "Dr. Paul Kane of Boston?"

"Sure; he's dead." It was his turn to regard her curiously. "Where've you been that you haven't heard how young Jack Winslow is wanted by the bulls for poisonin' old Kane at Oaklands last Monday night?"

"I was sick," she gasped "So sick I couldn't read. So Kane's kicked off!" She burst into wild, uncontrolled laughter, then became silent

"What brought him to Oaklands?" she questioned after a second's silence, "Kane, I mean"

"I heerd tell that he came down to see Elsa"

"What about?"

"He bein' a physician," the gardener spoke with marked hesitation; "an' she bein' a cripple——"

"Ha ha' Ha ha'" Her laugh was more like an explosion; again she gave vent to peal after peal.

Ferguson again drew out his roll of money.

"Here's your grand," he coaxed, "and' maybe I can throw in some 'snow,' all you'll want of it"

A sweat broke out on her face and she shook as with palsy.

"When?" she asked in a sibilant whisper, bending forward

"You claim you've got the goods on Elsa," he began "Well, show me proof of it"

"Who are you, anyway?" she demanded suspiciously. "A fly cop?"

"No!" with reassuring vigor "An' I ain't no beefer neither I'm here to help you get what you want—revenge. Money and plenty o' snow—that's the life for ye Come on here's the mon, hand out some proof"

Mrs. Lawrence jerked open the drawer of the table standing in front of her. He could hear her hands turning and twisting in the drawer, making a curious ripping sound. Her eyes were downcast and he could read nothing from her expression. Her lips were twitching oddly Suddenly a peculiar drumming sound cut the stillness. It came from under the table and Ferguson started violently.

"Keep your feet still, can't ye?" he commanded roughly. "Ain't ye got no sense a-tall?" A second later and he sprang to his feet, unable to remain motionless any longer as the drumming under the table grew feeble and more feeble.

Rushing to the woman's side, he tilted her head back and gazed at her ghastly face The eyes uplifted to his grew glassy even as he looked—a rattle in her throat—and all was over.

To Be Continued.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M LEWIS

TODAY was Thursday, and after today it will be Friday, and then Saturday. I told Jubilee when we woke up this morning that he was a lucky dog because there isn't any school on Saturday Because if there was school Saturday he might as well not have a master like me. He wagged his tail, kinda like he would like to try it once, so I kicked him out of bed and got up and got his rope and let him down, and then I put my pants on over my goose-pimples and went down and got the pail and went out and milked the dummed brutes, and the old cow with her tail full of stickers made out like she felt a fly and swang her tail around like a club and landed it between my ears so hard it almost broke my neck.

I looked her in the eye when she turned her head to see if I was still there, and she looked as innocent as if she was full of butter instead of milk. I was watching for her the next time and I ducked it, and then I got up and walloped her on the hip bone with the stool, and just then my grandfather said from the door, "What's the matter, Grand?" and when I told him he said, "Sho, there ain't no flies left Let me finish her." So he sot on the stool and started in, and she didn't pay him any mind for a long time, but just when he was getting done she swang on him, and the tail went around his neck and all the burrs caught in his whiskers and pulled him off the stool, and he said some offul interesting things whilst he was trying to get loose. And then he hollered for me to run in the house and get the shears, and when I was coming out of the kitchen with my mother and my ant right behind me, some of the bunch had slipped the rope off the cow and she came out of the door on her way to the pasture, and my grandfather was going as fast as she was, till she went through the gate and then he grabbed a picket and she jerked loose. She must have got some of his whiskers. My mother put her arms around him, but my ant just stood and grinned He scowled at her and said, "Let that be a lesson to you!" She said, "To not milk a cow ever?" He said, "No, not to ever raise a set of whiskers!" She said, "Huh! After seeing how they make you look?" When I went back to the barn the milk was split, but I got some out of the other one. I didn't ast who let the cow loose, but the Lost Bag of Tripe was looking mighty innocent.

We went in swimming in the creek, the girls not being along, but our lips got purple so soon that we didn't stay in long.

I came home from school and went out to the pasture and got the cow and picked the burrs out of her tail. It was a long job and she tried to kick me a couple of times. Once would of been enough if she had landed. Youniss and her mother and father came over after supper, and Youniss sang till I started to sing with her.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Sees Trouble Ahead.

AS I saw the determination with which Colin Cameron, the young talkie star, was attempting to monopolize Mary, I regretted the decision which had made me seat him at her left at dinner, Noel being at her right Of course, if he had been one of the original invited guests I should have been compelled to assign him to Mary as an escort letting Noel, as practically one of the family, take second place The talkie star, as the eldest of the younger men and with his position in the world, would have been a masculine guest of honor second only to Philip Veritzen But as Mr. Veritzen had intrigued the younger man's invitation after our party was made up I was free to assign him as extra man to one of the feminine guests My first impulse, to which I now devoutly wished I had yielded, had been to place him either at Lillian's left hand or mine But that would have made him so conspicuously a member of the "chaperone" end of the table, with all the young people at the other, that I had known I could not do it without seriously offending my employer.

Schoolboy Jealousy

The younger set, including the cadets, none of whom knew of my table arrangements, were going to the elevator in two groups, the four young girls in one and the college boys and cadets in another Not even Ronald, I noticed had singled out Marion as was his invariable custom when she was near him Was he going to turn temperamental, I wondered, because of the presence of the cadets, or was he unwilling to make her conspicuous by being the only one of the boys to select a partner before the place cards at the table should tell them where they were to sit?

If his attitude was due to schoolboy jealousy I was sorry that I had not assigned one of the cadets as extra man to Marion. Instead, mindful of the pretty idyl which I for one, wished to preserve, I had placed one cadet at Carolyn's left as a sop to Helena's maternal solicitude for the social success of her young daughter, and the other at the left of Peggy, plainest of the girls, as a sort of compensation prize

Mr Seibel's ingenuity had opened long closed doors and arranged a passage for us from the library, just beyond the elevators

A Sumptuous Display

There was a second's astonished silence a tribute in itself as our party came in view of the table, with its wonderful decoration of a tiny pool sunk into the table, and bordered with orchids—a pool of real water with real wee fish sporting within it, with small flowers and feathery vines, and one genuine water lily bud floating upon its surface Then the "Ohs" and "Ahs" broke forth, and Jerry, patently the irrepressible one of the college students, started a hand-clapping in which everyone joined. But I caught two glances toward me which held no enthusiasm, despite the fact that the senders were clapping with the rest. One, frankly venomous, was from Edith Fairfax, and I knew that she was equally incensed at the tribute to me and at the fact that she could not stir Dicky to retaliation. The other glance, quickly veiled, was from Dicky himself, and I saw that it held displeasure at this flamboyant gesture upon the part of my employer.

Emotional Control

But I knew that I had several potential pieces of dynamite scattered around the table—Dicky, Philip Veritzen, Noel, Mary and Edith Fairfax were all strung to a high nervous pitch, all rigidly controlling emotions which threatened to erupt. I did not exclude myself from the list of possessors of highly-strung nerves, but I did know that I had mine under control. Too much depended upon my keeping absolute guard of my words and looks for me to yield to impulse. But I felt like a man astride the powder keg, not knowing what second a lighted match would be dropped inside it.

The dinner progressed smoothly enough, with the service and food as nearly perfect that I saw Mr. Seibel's efforts had satisfied even that most captious epicure, Philip Veritzen And the theater party afterward—a pleasure even to the experienced playgoers among us, and a rare treat to the younger members of the party, was also apparently unruffled by any flaring up of jealousy or temper. But when we were back in the hotel—the women in our apartment and the men in the Underwoods—rear ranging coiffures and powders for the dance, Mary drew me aside with anxious eyes

"Auntie Madge, I don't know what to do," she said "Noel ——"

SPORTS

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

If there are any individuals in Marion who possessed sufficient confidence last spring in the one and only Bobby Jones to back their belief up with cold cash these same individuals are now probably trying to decide some means of spending a lot of easy money. The explanation is simple. Early in the year when Bobby announced his intention of trying to win four major championships in a single summer Lloyds of London immediately offered any amount of money at 50 to 1 odds that he would not perform the near miracle. Several persons are known to have put up wagers at that figure but whether any one around here did so is doubtful. If they did they will probably be the recipient of just 50 times the original amount within a short time. That is—unless Bobby blows his golden opportunity at this late hour and loses the American Amateur title.

Apparently all'd not so rosy in the Chicago Bruins' camp despite the fact that McCarthy has been deposed effective Jan. 1 and his place taken by the star second sacker, Rogers Hornsby. Vague and discordant rumblings are said to be issuing from the club house of the Windy City club; rumors which may or may not cause a general upheaval in the personnel of the team before the 1931 National league season rolls around.

It is no secret that Hack Wilson, current home run king, Grimm, infielder, Hartnett, backstop and Cuyler, outfielder do not possess any particular feelings of affection for the much criticized Rajah. These players form the backbone of the club and Hornsby may find his hands full running the club without their undivided services.

Followers of football in general and of Harding High in particular will no doubt regret to some extent that it will be impossible for a very large number of fans to make the long trip to Elyria a week from Friday to watch the Presidents in thir first efforts under the incandescents with Elyria High school providing the opposition. If reports are correct it will be opposition too and nothing short of it.

Recent local rumors had it that Harding was planning the installation of mazdas for night games but school officials quickly spiked the rumor when questioned regarding the possibilities of such a procedure. Harding just at present does not need facilities for playing at night.

JONES ADVANCES NEARER CROWN

SEEDED STARS LOSE IN WEDNESDAY PLAY

Atlantan Topheavy Favorite To Win Fourth Major Golf Title in Ardmore Tourney.

BY BRIAN BELL,
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 25—When the third round of the amateur golf championship today brought the first of the long 36-hole matches there were only two players in the "last eight" who had occupied such exalted positions before, Robert T. Jones, Jr., and Jess W. Sweetzer, both former champions.

The Von Elms, Voights, Ouimets, Willings and other landmarks of the great national competition were out of the picture with their places taken by the youngsters and one veteran who has been good in the past but never good enough.

The third round barred Eugene Homans young New Jersey player, against John Lehman, younger Chicago star, who is the western amateur champion; Charles Seaver, stocky, tow-headed Los Angeles youth, against William F. McPhail, 37-year old Bostonian who never before has successfully negotiated the earlier hurdles of the competition.

McCarthy Beats Von Elm

In the lower bracket Maurice McCarthy, recent Georgetown graduate and former intercollegiate champion the sensation of the first day play, forced Jess Sweetser, and Bobby Jones was bracketed with Fay Coleman, California's second representative among the survivors.

Bobby Jones played a fine round against Ross Somerville, Canadian champion. He played a poor round against Fred G. Hobitzel, another Canadian, but Toronto veteran was worse and the triple champion won again in the afternoon by his morning score.

The thrills of the day were all packed into the battle between McCarthy and Von Elm. McCarthy was one up coming to the home hole, but was weak with approach and Von Elm holed a good putt to square the match.

McCarthy had a chance to win the 20th hole but took three putts and a half resulted in sixes, one over par. Von Elm then had his chance at the short 21st but this time was the westerner who took the three putts and the match went on. After that every hole was played in par or better.

McCarthy got a break of the game on one of the many halved holes when one of his slightly misdirected shots hit a woman and rested in a better position than might have been the case if there had been no interference, but, he earned his victory at the close.

Both players were weary and haggard as they drove to the 335-yard hole from a tee high in the woods.

Von Elm's drive was straight and almost in front of the green, McCarthy followed with great shot that struck the ground and rolled into a trap Maurice then took his mashie niblick in hand and with perfectly executed pitch and run shot brought the ball to rest a few inches from the cup. Von Elm then missed his putt.

Willing, the golfer from Portland, Ore. was the first star to fall, going down before Lawson Little, San Francisco. Little in turn was eliminated by Homans.

EXPECT READMISSION OF WITTENBERG SOON

Last Obstacle of Reinstatement to B. A. A. Believed Removed.

By United Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 25—Despite reports to the contrary it was confidently predicted here today that Wittenberg college, which withdrew from the Buckeye Athletic Association after a dispute over its athletic practices, would be reinstated.

The last known obstacle to Wittenberg's reinstatement was removed yesterday when Athletic Director W. L. Livingston of Denison university announced Denison was ready to forgive but not forget; that Wittenberg, insofar as Denison is concerned, can be readmitted but that Denison will not resume athletic relations with her until Denison has been assured Wittenberg's athletic practices will go unquestioned.

Other schools in the B. A. A.—Ohio university, Ohio Wesleyan, Miami, and Cincinnati university—already had signified a willingness to approve conditional reinstatement but this cannot be accomplished until the vote is unanimous. Livingston's vote, it was believed, would remove the last obstacle.

Reports persisted here today that Wittenberg would be strenuously opposed from unrevealed sources when the next vote on the Lutheran school's status, expected some time within the next few weeks, is taken.

Wittenberg withdrew from the conference after it was openly charged with subsidizing athletes and offering other inducements to students of exceptional athletic ability. The school recently made application for reinstatement, stating the while that it was abiding by the conference standards of amateurism.

ST. LOUIS MAY CINCH NATIONAL LOOP FLAG TODAY IF CUBS LOSE

Cards and Bruins Start Final Series with Pirates and Reds.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

THE National league pennant race finally has arrived at the point where it may be settled in one day's play. St. Louis starts its final game series against Pittsburgh and Chicago clashes with the Cincinnati Reds.

If the Cardinals win today and the Reds beat the Cubs, the race will be over. Today the two leaders stand this way

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	B.	T.	P.
St. Louis	89	61	.593	..	..	4
Chicago	86	64	.573	3	..	4

Cards Need Two

The Pirates already have knocked the New York Giants out of the pennant race while the Cubs, easy victims in Cincinnati, have done somewhat better against the Reds in Chicago and can be counted on to show their best with the pennant at stake. Yet if St. Louis wins, the best they can hope for is a tie while the Cards need but two victories in four games to clinch the title no matter what the Cubs do.

The rivals of the two leaders clashed yesterday but without giving the fans much chance to see what they may do today. Rain interrupted the game several times and finally halted it in the sixth inning, giving Pittsburgh a 5 to 1 victory.

Brooklyn dropped into fourth place as they lost to the last place Phillies. With successive first inning homers by Chuck Klein and Don Hurst as the starting point, the Phils continued to hit hard and won by 6 to 3. It was a Brooklyn's seventh straight defeat.

Klein's homer was his 40th of the season.

Another tail-ender, the Boston Red Sox, came out ahead in the only American league game, defeating the second place Washington Senators, 6 to 3.

TENNIS PLAY RAINED OUT; MATCHES RESET

Original Wednesday Doubles Moved Up to Friday; Jones Wins.

With rain and wet grounds cancelling any possibility of competition either yesterday or today on the Shovel courts, the tennis matches of the Shovel-Star tennis tourney which were set for these days have been moved up.

The three doubles matches which were originally set for Wednesday will be played Friday if possible. The matches originally set for today and those set for Friday will be rescheduled. On Friday at 5:30 p. m. Wolfinger and Jones will play Herr and Gill on court No. 1; Thompson and Dulin will play Penry and Yazel on No. 2 and Gilmore and Long will play Siefert and Cunningham on No. 3.

The rescheduled matches of the remainder of the tournament will be published on this page Friday if possible.

One match was played last night in the singles division. Jones defeated Penry by scores of 6-2, 6-2.

Louisville Takes Lead in Junior Series

By The Associated Press

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 25—The American Association jinx still holds away over the Rochester Red Wings, champions of the International league.

Rochester won the International pennant in 1928 and 1929 but lost the "little world series", first to Indianapolis and then to Kansas City. Yesterday the Redwings started out in quest of the title for th ethird straight year but dropped the first game to the Louisville Colonels, American association 1930 title holders.

The Colonels battered six runs across the plate in the fourth inning and eventually won 7 to 3. The teams meet again today.

Manuel Cueto and Cesar Alvarez, Cuban players with the Tampa club of the Southeastern league, wear gold buttons on their underwear.

1930 Grid Rule Explanations

ANSWERS

1. The penalty for offsides on the kickoff is loss of five yards for offending team. Must kick off again with restraining lines five yards farther back.

2. In case of kickoff out of bounds twice the receiving team is given the ball on its own 40-yard line.

3. In the problem given yesterday the touchdown does not count. The ball is dead at spot where it is recovered by player A.

4. There must be seven men on the line of scrimmage at time when ball is put in play.

QUESTIONS

1. How far back must backs be behind the line of scrimmage?

2. Can center guard or tackles be shifted into the backfields?

3. In scrimmage team A dives over goal line with ball but fumbles as ball strikes ground. Player of team B recovers and carries ball back to 20-yard line. What is the decision?

4. Team A punts from near goal line. Punt is blocked and rolls into end zone. B player dives and would have recovered ball but kicker tackles him in end zone as he goes by enabling another player of A team to recover ball. What is decision?

5. What is penalty for offensive quarterback when he extends hands forward as to receive ball while he is less than one yard behind scrimmage line and ball is snapped directly at halfback?

ANSWERS TOMORROW.

SHARKEY-CAMPOLO FIGHT MAY BE FLOP

Public Declines To Rush For Tickets For Heavyweight Battle.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—If the pre-fight gate receipts are any criterion, then it doesn't make much of a difference to very many people if Jack Sharkey knocks Victorio Campolo, the Argentine to the mat for the count of ten, or visa versa when they come together in their fifteen-round heavyweight bout tonight.

Unless there is a last minute mad rush to the box office, there'll be many yawning gaps in the huge ball park when the two heavyweights step into the ring between 8:30 and 9 p. m. Predictions were that the receipts would not go much above the $100,000.

BRILLIANT LUTHERAN PIVOT MAN MAY NOT GET IN FIRST GAME

"Bill" Edwards May Grace Sidelines in Wittenberg-Georgetown Opener.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25—Captain Bill Edwards of Wittenberg college, one of the best centers in the midwest last year, may be prevented by a cold from starting against Georgetown college of Kentucky in Wittenberg's opening game Friday night.

Edwards, an all-state guard in 1928 and all-state center in 1929 when he was needed at that position, is eager to make up for time lost at the end of last season when he was injured.

The situation changes daily at Mount Union where John Thorpe it trying to get ready to meet Ohio State in Columbus Saturday. Indications today were that Johnny Boyle will be at center and probably captain the teams; Jimmy Wiand may be shifted from end to tackle; Grimes, the veteran, at fullback, Goss at quarterback; Brimlow, a big sophomore at right tackle.

New Players Report

Coach Ted Turney breathed a little easier at Heidelberg university when Abe Yourist, veteran end from Toledo, and George Ihnat of Lakeside, a sophomore lineman, reported for practice. Bill Brandy is expected to be opposite Yourist despite his injured shoulder when the season opens October 4, at Ohio Wesleyan.

Five of Coach L. C. Boles' Wooster boys were out with injuries and Boles has not indicated who will replace the six seniors who were graduated. He meets West Liberty Normal of West Virgilna on Saturday, in Wooster.

LOCAL MAN WINS

S. E. Butcher Victor in Trap Shot at Vandalia; Gearheiser Second.

S. E. Butcher and O. H. Gearheiser, both of Marion, placed first and second respectively in the class D division of a trapshot held yesterday by the Central Ohio Trap league at Vandalia, O. The shoot was held on the grounds of the American Trapshooters Association. Butcher broke 95 of a possible 100 targets and Gearheiser shattered five less.

H. Hirth was the only other participating Marion shooter and failed to place in the class A division.

HERE'S THE FIRST "Believe It or Not" Ripley taste-test in progress at the New York Athletic Club.

Old Gold most Appealing Cigarette

By ROBERT RIPLEY

"OLD GOLD seems to me to be one of the biggest 'believe-it-or-nots' to be found.

"That's why I accepted OLD GOLD'S challenge to conduct a series of taste-tests in public places, with the distinct understanding that they would publish the results . . . WIN, LOSE OR DRAW.

"I've just completed the first test at the New York Athletic Club. Fifteen guests each smoked the four leading brands of cigarettes, with names concealed. Each picked one as best and I removed the masks.

"And, believe it or not . . . OLD GOLD won! Picked by 7 smokers to 3 for the next brand.

"'Believe it or not' fans know I prove my facts. I'll gladly send you an auditor's report of the score."

RADIO NEWS AND PROGRAMS

New Series to Portray History of Timepieces

THE FIRST of the Hamilton Watchman programs, a new series of dramatic playlets with incidental music, will be heard Thursday at 7:45 p. m., through Station WABC.

Called "The Finger of Darkness," the first broadcast is a sketch which will describe the way an imaginary prehistoric man learned to measure the passing of the hours by means of a tall stone that cast a shadow that moved with the sun. How this crude timepiece was used to destroy an enemy animal will bring the playlet to a thrilling climax.

Three players with varied experience on the legitimate stage and in pictures will perform the playlet. The role of the man whose mind reached beyond his companions to realize that the approach of darkness could be foretold will be played by Webster Van Voorhis who last season supported Mrs. Fiske in the comedy "Ladies of the Jury."

• • •

Vallee's Tutor Is Featured on WEAF Program

RUDY WIEDOEFT, famous saxophonist and teacher of many of the leading players of that instrument, appears as guest artist with his most famous protege, Rudy Vallee, on the Fleischmann Hour Thursday from 7 to 8 p. m. over station WEAF and a coast-to-coast network.

Wiedoeft will be heard both as soloist and as duet partner with Vallee. He will play two solo numbers, "Dans L'Orient," and a tricky selection, "Sax O'Phun."

He and Vallee perform as a duet, the Stephen Foster classic, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" and with the two saxophoinsts of the orchestra will perform a quartet arrangement of the Rimsky-Korsakoff "Song of India."

Nearly everyone knows how Vallee, as a youngster, wrote wistful letters to Wiedoeft, asking how the master made the saxophone obey his will. Struck with the intense sincerity of these letters, Wiedoeft gave Vallee the first saxaphone lessons by mail and encouraged him in his career.

• • •

CLEVELAND LADY SAYS, "KONJOLA IS WONDERFUL"

Just Another Proof of the Powers of This New and Different Medicine.

MRS. ELIZABETH HARTER

"Konjola is a wonderful medicine," said Mrs. Elizabeth Harter, 2041 West Fiftieth street, Cleveland. "It has been almost two years since I took this medicine, and I am still feeling 100%. I was bothered with indigestion and had severe pains in the lower part of my stomach. I bloated badly and had dizzy spells. I was very nervous; in fact I suffered a nervous breakdown. I could not rest at night and was barely able to do my work. Before I had completed the third bottle of Konjola I noticed a change. I took but four bottles and the indigestion pains, bloating and dizzy spells passed away. Konjola strengthened me generally and greatly benefited my nervous system."

People often express amazement at the speed with which this great medicine wins its victories. It is better, however, to take a full treatment of from six to eight bottles.

Konjola is sold in Marion, O., at Stump & Sams Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. —Adv.

Cabbage is coming to the market in unusually small heads this year. Drouth has had its effect in local garden patches, and the small cabbage is one of the results.

WHEAT RISES, THEN SLUMPS

Market Reacts Sharply at Close, Following Early Advances.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—Sharp reactions from advances took place in grain value today just before the close. A statement quoting James C. Stone of the Feedral Farm board as saying that he agreed with the theory that the price trend would be downward for the next few years, led to general selling. Including execution of numerous stop-loss orders. The result was to tumble wheat values down 2¾c a bushel from earlier top level.

• • •

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—Fresh upturns in grain values here took place early today, helped by advanced quotations at Liverpool, where previous sellers were said to be collecting profits. Sharp falling off in receipts of wheat at Winnipeg counted also as a stimulating factor. Russia, however, was reported as continuing to offer wheat freely abroad. Starting unchanged to ¼c up, Chicago wheat prices later scored material gains all around. Corn opened at ¼@c decline to 1¾c gain, with the rise subsequently becoming general.

The advancing trend which the wheat market displayed a good deal of the time today was aided by the fact that heavy selling witnessed here yesterday and on other occasions of late had come to an end for at least the moment. Reports that furious snow-storms are sweeping over the Canadian prairie provinces were generally accepted as explaining in part th curtailment of wheat arrivals at Winnipeg, but ont accounting for word of lessened pressure of Canadian wheat at Liverpool.

Large quantities of new wheat in France were also reported today as so damp that it will have to be mixed with foreign wheat. Meanwhile it was further pointed out that although stocks of wheat in the United States are large, the bulk of domestic wheat is now in the show windows, and that the visible supply total hereafter is likely to diminish.

Comment was also heard that low prices for wheat have brought about a very large flour business, and that there is no question that feeding of wheat to livestock is under way on abig scale.

Provisions were easy, owing to lightness of demand for wheat.
